

FUNDS SOLICITED FOR THE FOURTH

Legion Planning Narberth's Greatest Celebration
of Day.

AUXILIARY IS AIDING

Collections for the annual July Fourth celebration, under the auspices of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion, will begin next Monday.

Members of the Boy Scout troop have distributed envelopes, printed in red and asking for contributions to the fund for the affair. Members of the Post will begin Monday to collect the envelopes.

This year's celebration, which, it is hoped, will be the largest ever held, will be in the nature of a Sesquicentennial event. Larger in every way than the celebrations held in the past, it is believed that the attendance will run into the thousands.

The Legion and the Auxiliary will co-operate in the collection of funds. Fifty of the auxiliary members will meet with 50 of the men Monday night at 7 before Elm Hall. At 7 the fire whistle will blow, to announce the start of collections, and every home is asked to be ready for the committee, giving to the community event the same that would otherwise be spent for little fireworks in the yard.

The goal is set at $1500, which would provide a colorful spectacle and a gala day to commemorate in a manner long to be remembered by our residents the day 150 years ago when events of stirring importance took place a few miles to the east.

The day's program will be varied, and its exact extent will depend on the amount of money available. There will be two ball games—one with Berwyn at 10 A. M. and with Wayne at 3 P. M. The band will play for both games.

In the evening an orchestra made up of members of the band will play for the community dance which will start at 7.30 and last until 9. The fireworks will begin shortly after dark.

If the residents are generous, the Playground will be the scene of a wonderful affair. The committee has stressed the fact that if every family would give the amount spent a few years ago for private displays, a demonstration second to none would be possible. Furthermore, the ladies would like to serve refreshments, and may be able to do so if the response to the appeal is what it should be.

At the meeting of the Auxiliary held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Tristan B. duMarais, plans were also discussed for the picnic on June 23 at Valley Forge for the shell-shocked veterans from Hospital No. 49.

HEAR COMMANDER TALK

A talk on "Preparedness for What?" was given the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon Tuesday by Lieut. Commander Van Aucken, of the U. S. Navy, who makes his home in Narberth. Mr. Van Aucken is a graduate of Annapolis and has been in the service for twenty-four years. The club voted his talk the most interesting this year.

Alvin E. Shull, president, was absent from the luncheon at the Cynwyd Club. He is attending the International Rotary convention in Denver this week.

WINS MUSIC PRIZE

Mrs. Arthur Goldsmith, of Narberth, president of the Philadelphia Women's Club of the Society for Ethical Culture, won the nation adult Motion Picture Music Memory Contest at the recent Atlantic City convention of women's clubs.

Mrs. Goldsmith, who went into the contest unprepared, thus won the only honor granted in Pennsylvania.

HOLD DONATION DAY

The annual King's Daughters' donation day was held in the Holiday House at Narberth Wednesday. Luncheon was served by the Narberth Circle.

ASH COLLECTION

The monthly collection of ashes will begin next Monday, June 21st, and will proceed during the week on the daily winter schedule.

As this is the only collection this month, and the last until late July, housekeepers are warned to get their ashes out on their usual days.

GREAT WHITE WAY SOON A REALITY

Philadelphia Electric Lays Conduits for New Lights.

7 STANDARDS PLANNED

After many months of delay, Narberth's "great white way" will soon be a reality. The Philadelphia Electric Company this week completed the laying of underground conduits to replace the over-head wires on Haverford avenue.

In a short while seven ornamental lighting standards will be erected on Haverford avenue, from Narberth to Essex. They will be artistic, simple, and an addition to the business section. The standards are slender, well-designed affairs, surmounted by a large globe. High-power light bulbs will be used.

Money for the improvement was raised through the personal efforts of Ralph S. Dunne, president of the Narberth Civic Association, who called on the merchants of Haverford avenue to interest them in the project.

A total of $3138.90 was raised and deposited with the Civic Association to pay for the lights. As a funds were turned over to a contractor could not be entered between the association and the Philadelphia Electric, the funds were turned over to council, which body also contributed $500, with the request that the contract be made.

Council, after bonds were arranged for, permitting the opening of the street and pavements, contracted for the new lights. That was many months ago, and despite reminders, the Philadelphia Electric Company protested an excess of sesqui work as an excuse for more delay.

On May 27, Mr. Dunne, embarrassed by the questions of those who had contributed to the project, sent the following pithy communication to the company:

The Philadelphia Electric Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen: The purpose of this letter is to elicit information in definite form as to when the work of erecting the street lights on Haverford avenue, Narberth, is to begin. The contract for this work was made with you by the Borough of Narberth several months ago, and the money turned over to you at that time had been collected prior to this. You can readily appreciate our embarrassment as the organization back of this matter when we are requested for information about the lights by those who have a very good right to ask—the business men who contributed the funds.

We can see no reason for the untimely delay since the necessary papers have been signed and the money is in your hands, and unless we have your reply immediately with a definite assurance that this work will begin at once, we frankly shall feel it our duty to call a meeting of the Association for the purpose of recalling this contract and having the funds returned.

Yours very truly,

THE NARBERTH CIVIC ASS'N.

Ralph S. Dunne, President.

On receipt of the letter, the company proceeded to come to life and progress is seen in the work.

Those who contributed to the Civic Association Lighting Fund include: Cook Brothers, William S. Howard, Whiteside Brothers, James R. Cote, Arcadia Restaurant, C. H. Crane, Women's Community Club, Dr. H. F. McDuffee, Robert J. Nash, Harry B. Wall, William T. McIntyre & Co., Howard F. Cotter, Narberth Civic Association, Howard E. Davis, White's Sweet Shop, Narberth National Bank, George R. Markle, William D. and H. T. Smedley, Merion Construction Co., Narberth Coal and Building Material Co., C. P. Cook, The Merion Title and Trust Co., The Borough of Narberth, George M. Dando, Lyons Hardware Co., J. A. Miller, Freeman's Market, H. Ricklin, J. A. Caldwell, R. J. Hamilton and Charles S. Powell, the last two of Ardmore.

There are but few rare days this June. They seem to be either raw or too well done.

COUNCIL VOTES TO FIGHT INVASION OF YELLOW CABS; FORECLOSING LIENS

Financial Condition of Borough
Makes Prompt Action Necessary.

$600 NOW CLEARED UP

The Liens Committee made its first report of the year at the regular meeting of Borough Council last Monday evening. Councilman Kaerber, the chairman, indicated that a program for the prompt foreclosure of all outstanding borough liens has been formulated by the Committee and he asked for authority to put it into effect. That authority was readily granted by council, subject to a little more detailed report to be made at the July meeting. The present financial condition of the borough renders it imperative that all outstanding liens should be collected and foreclosure proceedings have already been successfully entered against some of the oldest liens. The borough solicitor's office reported that they had collected and turned in $600 to the borough treasurer by foreclosure of old liens during the past month.

The possibility of publishing in "Our Town" the names of all property owners who have been liened and also the means of all delinquent tax payers was discussed, but definite action was not taken on this suggestion. Council appeared to be unanimous in believing that it would be wise to print once a year the complete list of all borough delinquents, both for the information of those tax payers who do pay promptly and as a means of applying an additional incentive to those who are habitually slow pay.

Refuse Zoning Charge.

Another application was received from Mrs. Fleming to alter her blacksmith shop near the corner of Haverford and Montgomery avenues, so as to be able to use it for the sale of automobile accessories. Various similar petitions for the commercial development of this property have been received from Mrs. Fleming in the past, and all of them have been denied because it is the belief of council that the zoning ordinance should not be modified at this time and that if a business development was permitted along Montgomery avenue, it would have an adverse effect upon the residential character of the borough as a whole and might decrease the market value of the next contiguous properties as much as it would enhance the market value of properties facing Montgomery avenue. It is the belief of council that such a modification would be taking a property value away from one

AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP

Marguerite Percy, of Narberth, has been awarded a $250 scholarship at the West Chester Normal School, and Edith Maltby, of Narberth, one of $100 at the same institution.

These scholarships were recently inaugurated by the Richard Hamilton estate for a Lower Merion High School graduate who will enter West Chester Normal School for elementary grade work as a teacher and who resides at Gladwyne preferably. Notwithstanding the fact that they were not applicants from Gladwyne, the estate awarded three scholarships; those mentioned above and another of $100 to Dorothy Baird, of Bala.

Miss Miriam E. Thompson, of State College, Penna., is visiting her cousins, the Misses Augst, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Augst, of Dudley avenue. Miss Thompson accompanied her classmates of the graduating class of the State College High School on a sight-seeing tour to Washington for a few days, and proceeded from there to Narberth, where she will remain until after the graduation of her cousin, Miss Katherine C. Augst, from the Narberth Junior High School.

Mr. and Mrs. George Adams, of Buffalo, N. Y., are guests of Miss Ruth Durboraw, Elmwood avenue.

Resolution Calls for Support of the Local Taxicab Owners.

WOULD REFUSE STANDS

"WHEREAS, The Public Service Commission now has before it a petition from the Yellow Taxicab Company seeking permission to maintain and operate a taxicab stand or stands and taxicab service in the borough of Narberth, and

"WHEREAS, The Narberth Taxicab Company and Patrick Donahue are at present and have been for several years past, giving the people of Narberth a taxicab service that is adequate and reliable at rates that are fair and subject to the control of local ordinances, and

"WHEREAS, the two Narberth taxicab operators, by private arrangements with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, maintain their stands, so-called, off and removed from the public thoroughfares, and

"WHEREAS, it would be contrary to public policy and convenience to permit any taxicab stands on the public highways adjacent to or near the railway station and business center of the borough of Narberth, and such additional stands would not be granted or permitted by the borough authorities, and Against Cruising.

"WHEREAS, the so-called cruising method, usually employed by taxicab operators when and where a stand is not available, would add to a street congestion that it already serious and be contrary to the long established residential character and policy of the streets of the borough of Narberth, and would be opposed by the Narberth police to the full extent of their powers, and

"WHEREAS, the drivers of the present Narberth taxicabs are local residents, known personally by their patrons, and therefore under a strong obligation to be courteous and to drive carefully; and they do in fact so enjoy the confidence of their patrons that children are entrusted to them, also the execution of other commissions requiring care and reliability, and

"WHEREAS, it is unlikely that the taxicab drivers of a large outside organization, regardless of their personal integrity, could ever win the same degree of local confidence, which is an essential part of the service now rendered

"THEREFORE, be it, and it is hereby unanimously resolved by the Council of the borough of Narberth, in regular meeting assembled on this 14th day of June, 1926, that the taxicab proposal of the Yellow Taxicab Company is contrary to the public and corporate interests of the borough of Narberth; that the Public Service Commission is hereby respectfully requested to deny the aforesaid petition insofar as the borough of Narberth is concerned; and that the borough and the borough solicitor are hereby authorized and instructed, either or both, to present this petition in person to the Public Service Commission and diligently to represent the borough Council in reference thereto."

Those who enjoy the pleasure of open-air refreshments will have ample opportunity to indulge to their fullest capacity, when on the evening of Friday, June 25, the Rose Glen Canoe Club boys of Narberth will again stage a strawberry and ice cream festival on Caldwell's lawn at Essex and Elmwood avenues.

Music, fish pond, raffles, open-air dancing, etc., will furnish entertainment. Those that attended last year will certainly not miss this one and those who did not will have something coming to them.

Young folks, old folks, everybody, come! Taste our home-made cakes and candy, and enjoy the evening with us.

BENEFIT RAISES FUNDS FOR FIELD

Prizes Will Be Drawn Next Monday Night at Davis'.

LAST CALL IS ISSUED

The distribution of gifts under the auspices of the Narberth Baseball Club will occur on Monday evening, June 21, 1926, at Davis', and those who have not as yet sent in their little dollar to the genial Gene are urged to do so before the curtain finally falls.

The proceeds of the affair will be used, among other things, to pay the quite sizable bill which had to be incurred to provide a standard ball diamond on the Playground and it is said that the layout, which has been accomplished, provides Narberth with one of the best ball fields in the Philadelphia section. The work was conducted under the direction of Sam Payne, grounds keeper of the Phillies for many years, who was selected by the club in its effort to provide the borough with a field which would fulfill every professional requirement.

Application was made to the Recreation Board for the funds to defray the expenses, but that august body reported that money is something they simply haven't got and that Council never even looked in their direction when the doles were being distributed last time.

What a board does when it is high and dry on wherewithal is a mystery which will, no doubt, be solved some day.

Meanwhile, the baseball boys turned up the plan of which most of the populace now know and the merchants generously provided the trophies of the occasion. So far, a goodly sum has been realized, but not enough to pay all the bills and those folks who are pleasantly disposed and who agree that excellent facilities for baseball are no mean part of a good town's assets, are reminded that a very agreeable opportunity is now presented to join in a neighborhood movement by contributing a dime or a dollar, as suits them best, and for something which is worth a great deal more than the price paid for it.

So, then, line up at Davis' counter if you have not already been served, and also ask the man next door of you (the one on the right) whether or not he has done himself proud by doling up.

Everybody will be welcome at the drawing—9 o'clock sharp in the Davis Emporium with the prettiest girl in Narberth pulling from the hat.

It ought to be worth a dollar to learn just who that lady is!

SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Dr. and Mrs. William I. Book celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Friday, June 11, at their home on Wynnedale road. An informal celebration was arranged by the friends and neighbors of Dr. and Mrs. Book in the evening in the nature of a surprise. Among other gifts they were the recipients of a piece of silver in honor of the event.

Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. R. Franklin Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Klempell, Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Marrow, Mr. and Mrs. Gardelle Simons and Mr. and Mrs. Alan J. Smith, all of Wynnedale road.

HASLAM-LEONARD

The marriage of Miss Katherine Marie Leonard, daughter of Mr. James T. Leonard, of Dudley avenue, to Mr. George Carson Haslam, son of Mrs. Martha Haslam, of Palmyra, N. J., took place Wednesday at 10.00 A. M. at St. Margaret's Church, Narberth.

Mr. Frank J. Ryan, of Oakmont, served as best man. The maid of honor was Miss Adelaide Leonard, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaid was Miss Agnes Leonard, another sister. Ushers were Messrs. Joseph and Leo Leonard ad Ernest Boulay, all of Narberth.

A reception followed the ceremony at the bride's home. After a wedding trip to Atlantic City, the couple will make their home at Palmyra, N. J.

K. K. K. MEETS

Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, most of them in full regalia but minus masks, held a large open-air meeting and picnic in Bevan's field on Black Rock road, Gladwyne, Saturday afternoon. Three hundred to 400 people and cars had arrived shortly after 3.30 P. M. when the exercises were slated to get under way and a steady stream was still arriving at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Klan ceremonies were held and there were speeches by leaders. Two crosses were fired and an eight-foot American flag was flown from the top of a large dead cedar tree. Women were present along with male members.

HOSPITAL FUND EXCEEDS GOAL

Vaclair Credits Women with Success of Campaign
for Building.

AIDED BY DEVON FAIR

The Bryn Mawr Hospital's campaign was officially brought to a successful end last Friday night with a dinner at the Bellevue-Stratford, when subscriptions totalling $1,275,948 were announced. Previous to the dinner the amount reported was $640,065.

Since the dinner, additional subscriptions have brought the total up to $1,297,142.

Samuel M. Vaclair, president of the Board of Trustees of the hospital, presided at the dinner, Mr. Rea, chairman of the campaign, being absent on account of illness.

In his opening speech Mr. Vaclair said: "One of the principal things which has contributed to our success was the selection of Mr. Rea to take charge of this important affair."

"We have others. The entire organization has been well selected. It was fortunate that I was away while this organization was being arranged for, because I am quite sure that had I been home and had anything to do with it, it probably would not have been as effective as it has been. The ladies have worked as they have never worked before, although I wish to say to you all here that the past of the Bryn Mawr Hospital has been greatly dependent upon the labors of the ladies of the Main Line."

"In the past few years, the ladies under the able management of Mrs. Barclay have contributed $150,000 to the support of the Bryn Mawr Hospital through the Devon fair."

"Our doctors have worked unceasingly during this campaign, and have not only subscribed liberally themselves, but have given as much time as they could legitimately spare from the needs of their patients."

Mr. Vaclair then paid further tribute to the efficient work performed for the benefit of the hospital by the ladies.

HE NEEDED A MAP

The fact that he was not well versed in the geography of Narberth cost one Frederick Fisher, of the city of Philadelphia, the sum of $24 Tuesday.

Mr. Fisher, with a gentleman friend, was wandering down Montgomery avenue in his car at the gentle speed of a mile a minute, when officer Emil Piquet, of the Narberth force, stepped out from the corner of Montgomery and Essex and played a merry spring roundelay on his whistle.

Fisher took a quick look, shot between two cars at a bad crossing and stepped on the throttle.

Down the pike came an optulent Lincoln. Piquet hailed it, and in a moment was travelling at express train speed after the offender. At Price avenue the first car suddenly skidded to the right and drove like a house-afire down Price avenue.

Now, as every well-versed Narberth knows, Price avenue ends suddenly at the head of Narbrook Park. But Mr. Fisher did not discover that till he arrived there, tried to turn, skidded and blew out a tire.

Then the Lincoln, which had been close behind him, with police whistle and horn both going, drew up. Mr. Fisher looked meek and penitent, and a short time later much sadder when Magistrate Kromer decided that $24 wasn't a bad fee for using the borough as a race-course.

In any case, several hundred spectators enjoyed the chase.

STEALTH AND MYSTERY

Surround Party Given in Honor of Miss Morris.

It was on last Wednesday evening, just as the sun had settled down over the western hills, that a rather mysterious looking troupe of basket-burdened ladies wended their way along North Narberth avenue. With measured tread and still of speech, it was evident that some unusual undertaking engaged their attention and when a peanut rolled from out one of their multitudinous packages the smothered sighs of all the party made it plain that the silence which they had imposed on themselves was indeed a sacrificial offering to the errand on which they were so stealthily bent.

On up the hill they trudged, and with the weight of their stores offset by their very evident lightness of heart, discernible despite their oral paucity, they finally came to a halt where the hospitable light showed at its kindly glow that here was the Catholic Rectory, and therein was their quarry.

Thrilled they obviously were and their leader, referring to notes which may have outlined the procedure which governed them, evidently was impressed that rank formations should always be ready to face the powder and that was, no doubt, the reason why all the ladies at this juncture powdered their faces. This done they assembled again for what appeared to be a very formal entrance and in a nonce came forth tremendous shrills of joy and greeting, esteem unbounded, and, mayhap, gratitude that their stilled voices had been restored to them. Ah, the pity and the plight of a woman who is not allowed to talk!

Here, then, was the mystery revealed, a real and genuine and most gorgeous surprise to Jane Morris on her happy birthday anniversary. Surprised, indeed, was the dear lady, and emotion quick betook her, but tears are for sad days, not for glad days, and her party would have none of it. Instead, merriment took hold forthwith and gaiety vied with love and fun with warm affection, as the evening went on and the great packages were unmasked.

Go far and you will rarely find a tribute of friendship similar to what happened on this eventful evening, a recognition of true womanhood, one who puts her own interests aside as she seeks to serve others, a spirit that can be glad, while all the time it is good, inspired by the Christian conviction that before God all folks are equal and worthy of their fellow-beings' best.

So, then, that was the keynote of the gala time and it will long be a memorable occasion for all those who were so fortunate as to be present.

The informal committee in charge included:

Mrs. John Borden, Mrs. William J. Butler, Mr. J. J. Cabrey, Mrs. Fred J. Hipkiss, Miss Jane Morris, 2d, Miss Mary A. Morris, Mrs. William G. Torchiana, Mrs. F. W. E. Stedem, Mrs. Henry A. Smith.

MRS. SUSAN L. S. BELL

Mrs. Susan Laura Stoughton Bell, mother of Rev. Gibson Bell, rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Wynnewood, died Tuesday at her home in Boston, at the age of 84.

She was the widow of Albert D. S. Bell, who was active in Episcopal Church work in Boston for many years. Her son, in addition to being rector of All Saints' Church, is headmaster of the Montgomery School, Wynnewood.

TENNIS CLUB NOTES

First of Summer Card Parties a Big Success.

Saturday evening saw what we all hope is only the first of the card parties to be held this summer in the program to be carried out by the women of the Tennis Club. If the holding of further affairs was dependent upon the success of this the management received plenty of encouragement
as the entire facilities of the club house were taxed to the limit and the financial returns exceeded all expectations.

With the usual thoroughness
the arrangements for the entertainment of the members and their guests showed much thought and preparation and not even the smallest matter was overlooked.

The main club room was very tastefully decorated with the season's blooms and the prizes and refreshments were received with great favor.

The women's prizes fell to Miss Campbell, Mrs. Fretz, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Mrs.
Meakem, while the fortunate
men were Mr. Bloom, Mr. Mc-Tigue, Mr. Harris, Mr. Redifer
and Mr. Wanamaker.

Mrs. J. W. MacKay, Mrs. J. C.
McKell, Mrs. C. B. Metzger and Mrs. R. C. Williams carried the heaviest part of the work, but were ably assisted by many of the others.

Unfortunately, the weather has not been so settled as had been hoped or expected and the attendance on the courts has not been large only when the sun has put in an appearance has found a goodly crowd taking advantage of their opportunities. And the Grounds Committee, mindful of the fact that this same sun is only beginning its work for the summer, has stretched a new canvas awning over the spectators' benches so that any and all comers, whether member or stranger, may find cool and pleasant facilities for watching the game.

The word goes round that the Saturday evening dinners at the club are an assured feature and the members are again reminded to call Mrs. Carl Metzger early to make reservation, and also so those in charge may make proper arrangements.

President Bill Evans let out a piece of news the other evening that will be of the greatest interest to all the members, but as some of the details have not been settled there cannot be a public announcement at this time. But it is good and undoubtedly it will stimulate all who are interested in the club.

It is regretted again that the date for the novice day has not been set, but the committee in charge state positively next week's paper will carry this news.

BERWYN TAKES ONE

Berwyn gave Narberth its third straight defeat in the Main Line League race Saturday, 6-1.
Troost, besides holding Narberth to seven scattered hits, had a big day with the stick, hitting safely four times.

Berwyn's big inning was the fourth, when it bunched four hits
and a base on balls for three runs.
Troost was backed by brilliant fielding, Doyle and Higgins making great running catches. Doyle also threw out a Narberth runner
at home plate from deep left field.
Other features were a home run by Mayo in the first inning, and the fielding of Dickie and Keyes.

COUNCIL STILL WORKS ON STREET IMPROVEMENT

group of citizens and awarding it to another group. Councilman Fretz, chairman of the Building Committee, was instructed to advise Mrs. Fleming that her petition was contrary to the zoning ordinance and that it was not the inclination
of council to amend the ordinance
at this time.

The street commissioner, Mr.
George B. Suplee, reported that the heavy storm of Monday evening had caused a serious overflow and deposit of debris on and adjacent to the property of Mr. A. Gilfillan, at the corner of Wynnewood road and Rockland avenue. As a result of this report, council authorized the Highway Committee to install a new "city" type inlet at the corner of Merion and Wynnewood avenues, to relieve this condition. The Highway Committee was also authorized to construct a new and permanent surface water drain from the basement of the new Community Building to the creek.

Councilman Wood, chairman of the Highway and Sewer Committee, read the following report which was approved:

Report of Committee.

Since the May report of this committee, all of the preliminary work for the permanent improvement of Williams avenue and Meeting House
lane, including curbs and sidewalks
where required, has been completed, and the contractor expects to start work this week on the permanent paying. This job should be completed in a short time.

At the last meeting of Council, a desire was expressed to receive an estimate of the probable cost of the improvements on Meeting House lane and Williams avenue. In accordance with that request, we submit herewith an estimate that the work on Meeting House lane will cost about $8500
and the work on Williams avenue will cost about $3500.

In our April report we recommended that the resurfacing of two sections of north Narberth avenue and of one section of Windsor avenue be undertaken by the Street Commissioner and the borough labor instead of letting them out by contract. We estimated that we could do the work on Narberth avenue for $5000 and the work on Windsor avenue for $2000, which were the budget sums set aside for that purpose. Each of these figures was considerably lower than the contractor's bid for this work. We are glad to be able to report that the complete resurfacing of north Nar-berth avenue from Haverford avenue to Windsor avenue has been put through to completion within the past two weeks at a total cost of $1604.15.
Detailed figures of this cost will be supplied if Council desires.

Will Save Money.

Work was begun today on resurfacing that section of north Narberth avenue between Woodbine avenue and Montgomery avenue. This is a longer piece than the one already completed
but the cost of the work already done indicates that we can keep inside the original estimate.

Since the last meeting of Council,
your committee has brought to the attention of the Recreation Board the standing water in the basement of the new community building and the Street Commissioner has supplied to the Recreation Board figures of the cost of installing a drain pipe from the basement of the Community Building to the creek. The chairman of the Recreation Board had requested us to move and re-distribute on the playground a pile of earth which was placed there last year when the original baseball diamond was laid out.
Not having funds in the Highway Department for that purpose, your committee has secured an estimate from Mr. Guy Croyle, who offers to move and re-distribute this earth at approximately $150 to $175. We would recommend that the pile of earth be permitted to remain where it is until after the summer program of street work is completed. It is possible that the Highway Department may be able to move this earth with borough labor
before the winter collection of ashes
is resumed.

A Busy Month.

During the month of May the Street
Commissioner and his men cleaned
the streets; patched all the holes; conducted Clean-Up Week, and installed
an inlet at the corner of Woodside avenue and Rockland road. This inlet represents work which was left over from last year's program. Ashes collected during the month of May totalled 480 cubic yards. Purchase of materials during May totalled $507.65.
Other expenses of the Highway Department during the same month were
as follows:

Ash collections	$288.54
Street maintenance	265.36
Street cleaning	88.00
Work on playground	2.28
Clean-up Week	194.40
Hire of steam roller	37.42
	$876.00

GRAPHIC LIBRARY EXHIBIT

Now Being Constructed for the Sesquicentennial Exposition.

Just how easily one may draw books from a free public library, whether one lives in a congested city or on an isolated ranch, will be demonstrated graphically in a series of exhibits, which the American Library Association is arranging for the Sesquicentennial International Exposition.

Two electrically-operated maps 50 or 60 feet long will be displayed at the library exhibit. One will illustrate book distribution from a county library to branches and stations in villages, country schools, general stores, and other rural centres. The other map will show the operation of a complete city library system. A model book truck will illustrate methods of getting books into the hands of people everywhere in the community.

The close relation between public libraries and public schools will be shown. Several States which have passed laws compelling the installation of libraries in high schools may be used as illustration, e. g., Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio and Wisconsin. Methods of book selection will also be exhibited, likewise book service in hospitals, reformatories, prisons and other institutions. There will be a hospital book trust with a hospital librarian in charge. An equipped and furnished children's library with 300 of the best books for children will be of interest to the mothers and fathers of the land.

Technical and reference libraries maintained by business houses, insurance companies, engineering firms and banks will comprise an exhibit under the auspices of the Special Libraries Association, which is affiliated with the American Library Association.

The Map Below Shows WHITE HORSE VILLAGE AT ABSECON

IT shows that White Horse Village is only 6 miles to the very center of Atlantic City.

It shows that White Horse Village is right near the junction of the White Horse

Pike and the New York Road.

It shows that White Horse Village is right in Absecon, with churches, stores and schools—not a few blocks away—but right at its very door.

But the most important fact it can't portray!

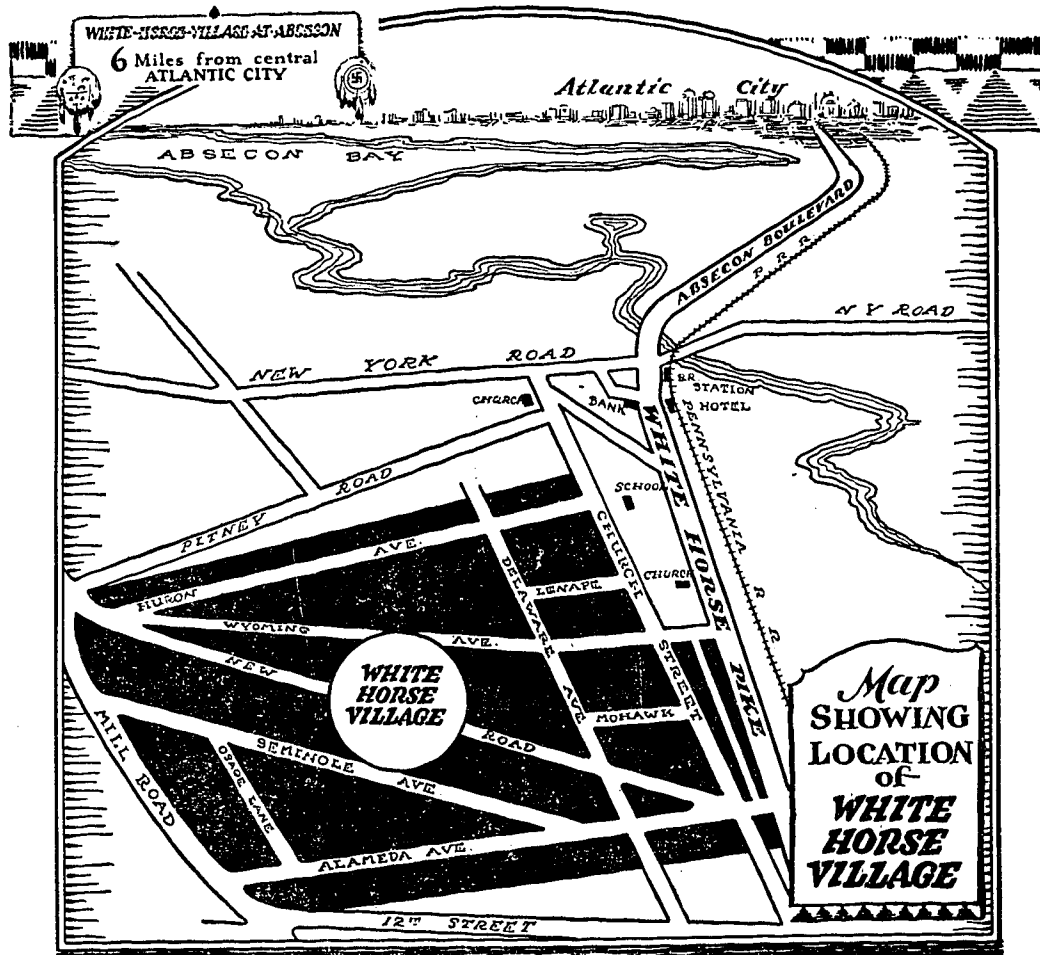

Prices for large lots in White Horse Village—all to be fully improved before the day of settlement—are priced far under those in any development where the ground is immediately needed and available.

Lots 40 feet in width can be purchased for as low as $890.00—and only 5% or about $45.00 is needed as a first payment. These low prices—the unusually liberal terms and the ever increasing need for ground in this section will sell White Horse Village in a very limited time!

Those who purchase now, at these low prices, are sure to realize profits in a very short time—

But remember you must act at once!
